I. Greetings from the Chair

A few announcements this month; Tenet is requiring mandatory training for All employees, residents, and contractors with DMC/Tenet. This includes those who provide services for the DMC under independent contractor agreements (ex. Current clinical and medical administrative services provided by WSUPG physicians and teaching services provided through WSU contracts) are required to complete the training. Training sessions will be available from April 7 to May 22 at various locations. Also, The Tolan Park Environmental Safety Committee will hold mandatory Safety Training sessions. You can take the training on either Thursday, April 24, 2014 or Monday, April 28, 2014 @ 12:00pm – in the 2nd floor conference room. Additional information on both trainings can be found below. While we continue to face significant challenges, hard work and follow-through has resulted in several recent and impressive achievements by our faculty, staff and trainees.

II. News from the Faculty

- Vaibhav Diwadkar, Ph.D., has received a special endowment from Dr. Mark Cohen, WSUSOM alumnus, to support WSUSOM medical students' involvement in research including support for attending and presenting at national meetings. Especially impressive is that when Dr. Diwadkar first began exploring support for medical student education, he suggested the endowment strategy as a means to achieve sustained funding for this purpose. Dr. Cohen will be here in May at which time we will honor and acknowledge his kind support of our Department and talented investigators and mentors like Dr. Diwadkar.

III. Research Activities

- Dhruman Goradia and Brianne Mohl participated in the WSU Graduate Exhibition. President Wilson presented 1st place award to Brianne Mohl for her work on functional differences during rhyming in the same population and 2nd place award to Dhruman Goradia for his work on shape deformation in the basal ganglia for boys with ADHD and reading disability. Both are students in the department's TNP program and mentored by Dr. Jeff Stanley.

IV. Office of Education and Training

- Thank you to all of those that assisted in Mock Boards!!!!
